Listening to Customers' requirements

When CGGVeritas decided to refurbish their Crawley headquarters, they already had some strong views on what was important:-

- 1) Well designed Team Pod for four people using 2.1m X 1.8m workstations.
- 2) Ability to accommodate a pair of 30" monitors in a flexible manner.
- 3) Good Cable Management facilities (power & data).

4) Ability to match existing finishes scheme

5) Special storage shelving designed to be incorporated into the desk design.

6) Overall economic design solution fitting within the available budget.

The driver for the project was the relocation of around 90 staff from the London office to Crawley as the result of a company merger.

Through the project architects and several furniture manufacturers were investigated and MPServ and Eurotek Office Furniture selected as the provider of the new furniture.

CGGVeritas visited the Eurotek factory and were impressed by the use of technology for maximum flexibility and efficiency as well as the functionality and cleanliness of the factory, in particular the flexible way Eurotek can design & manufacture tailored solutions.

The client was impressed with Eurotek's culture of Reduce, Reuse & Recycle which reflected their own. In fact in this project a major amount of the original furniture has been designed back into the furnishing scheme and this was made possible by the fact that Eurotek had maintained a consistent set of standard finishes over a long period enabling the old furniture and the new to be matched.

The whole scheme was specially designed with tailored divider screens covered in fabric colour linked with the office décor giving a totally coordinated appearance to the whole refurbishment scheme. "As well as being local, we chose Eurotek for their continued ability to meet our long term supply requirements and their willingness always to find the right bespoke solution for our particular needs. We were able to use their CAD facility to help in the office design layouts and their installation team installed the furniture within our programme" added Peter Young Facilities Manager for CGGVeritas.
